We do want to remind parents of the process we go through in placing students and making classes for the next year. These factors include: academic ability; peer interaction/compatibility; student/teacher rapport; the student's learning style; the teacher's style of instruction; gender balance; attention to any special needs or requirements a student may have; and, what we believe to be the best combination of students and the teacher to be.

Describe any special needs your child may have and their learning style:

List any other concerns that may affect placement (for example, a sibling or relative that your child should not be placed within the same classroom):

Are there any other things you would like us to know about your child that would be important for us to know in making a teacher placement for next year:

Parents/guardians should understand that this request is not a guarantee that your child will be assigned as requested. Many other factors must be considered when placing children in particular classrooms. All posted class lists are final.
